DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

- 1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

- 2. Claims 27-52 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bretcher et al or Babinec et al.
- 3. Patentees disclose an ethylene/vinyl acetate copolymer admixed with a susceptor of the claimed type i.e. tin oxide (col.13 last full par. of col.13 and third full par. of col. 15 of Babinic et al and col. 8 lines 40 and 41 and col. 11 lines 14- 39 of col.11 of Bretscher et al.
- 4. It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to use a liquid copolymer rather than a solid copolymer of the same chemical makeup as the binder for the susceptor depending on the use of the composition, noting that the claims do not recite any criticality of the viscosity of the claimed liquid copolymer.

Art Unit: 1711

5. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

- 1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
- 2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
- 3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
- 4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.
